

An awesome morning in the Gats!

My friend RP surprised me with an early morning walk up in the Gatineau's! Cool fall weather, perfect for the trail. We grabbed a quick coffee at this awesome place in Old Chelsea, called Biscotti. Right around the corner from the Chelsea Pub. The trees were more bare than we both expected but the view at the top was quite impressive! Here are a few pics including a lonely bicycle ☐

A really great way to start the weekend!
