

Bon Iver - Holocene

We finished building the last of the furniture for my new apartment last night. The new media center was easier than I expected and the first thing I played on it was Bon Iver's video Holocene. It made me miss Iceland.

It was a rough week moving and my back is aching. I'm going to need a day up at the Nordik spa just to get the kinks out although I am looking forward to hot yoga tomorrow. I have a lot of picture arranging on my beautiful large walls but that will be over the next several weeks. Several friends have already popped by and I can't wait to have my inaugural gathering. Soon.
