Finally, some good tv…..

Sherlock, will return on Jan. 17!

My favorite sleuth will return for season 3. I know it will be only three episodes but they will be three amazing episodes if the last two seasons are reliable indicators. Thank god since there is just nothing left on television. I’m also patiently awaiting another Masterchef from down under. Three weeks and I still don’t miss cable. The over-the-air HD antenna is functioning really well! I get the news and watch the occasional hockey game. □□
