

First BBQ of the season

I really enjoyed my first steak on a BBQ of the 2013 season at my friend Matt's place. Unfortunately, the Senators lost to Philadelphia, but Montreal did beat Toronto. It was a wash. But the steak was great!

And here is the Leica 25mm 1.4 handheld in the dark. Great lens.

Oh, and on the walk over to Matt's I took this shot of some spring shoots! Nice to see and I can't wait for the flowers to start blooming so I can take Macros with my 60mm! Can't wait!
