

Iceland and a new camera

Outside of working too much I have spent the last while planning for my trip to Iceland. My last piece is the 4×4 rental. Iceland looks absolutely beautiful and I cannot wait to go! I went to Sail and got a great deal on both a new Marmot tent and sleeping bag, both rated to -10 and the tent is both water and wind formed. I am also checking hotels and bed/breakfasts but, fingers crossed, I will be hopping from one tent location to another with a hot spring in between a few waterfalls.

I got my Iceland photographers map! It shows all the great photo locations and can't miss waterfalls. I'm sure that I could easily spend longer than 3 weeks photographing but it will have to do. ☐

Source: <https://www.idonthaveacoolname.com/iceland-and-a-new-camera/>