

More binge watching, Danish style

I just finished season 1 of Borgen. I really enjoyed the French series Engrenages and this was recommended as another foreign language gem.

Essentially the Danish version of The West Wing, this one hour drama is some damn good tv! There are three seasons and I just got back from hot yoga and may just start the second season and stay on my couch. The weather outside is truly frightful: slippery and wet, trending toward freezing rain.
