

Rome trip

OMG! I am heading to Rome in a month or so and I just cannot wait! I have planned out my photo tour and, fingers crossed, I can get what I need in the limited time I am there. The architecture is what I am really looking forward to but am going to try my hat at some street photography. Yikes.

I am also looking forward to Tuscany but am now deliberating about whether or not I can fit Venice in, or just spend another day or two in Rome. I know, rough choices. I know that my camera is looking forward to the trip even more than I am!
